

Paul Taliangis is founder and Chief Executive of Core Energy Group.

Prior to forming Core Paul held senior management positions with a leading international energy company in the areas of Corporate Development (M&A), Corporate Planning and Finance. This followed executive roles in corporate and investment banking, management consulting with Ernst & Young, and in chartered accounting with Price Waterhouse.

Paul's 25 years of experience has extended across Asia, New Zealand, PNG, UK and USA in the areas of strategic and corporate advice, M&A, corporate finance, equity capital markets and day to day management of energy businesses. During this time Paul has lead 100's of projects and transactions on behalf of smaller organisations through to large multinational corporations, involving all critical elements of the energy value chain - LNG, conventional and unconventional gas, oil/ liquids, coal, energy services, electricity, renewable energy and retail.

Paul holds a Bachelor of Economics and Post Graduate Diploma in Accounting and a Post Graduate qualification in Chartered Accounting, acquired during prior employment with Price Waterhouse. Paul has attended an extensive range of international Executive development courses including at the Chicago Business School.

Paul Taliangis